the resolutions reported except that on New-York and to the reorganization of the cities of New-York and to the reorganization of the cities of New-York and Kings.

The Chairman—The Chair intended to so put it. The question new is open that | serf of the resolutions which will be recognized as the platform of the Convention.

Mr. Low of Kings County—I have introduced earlier a resolution from the Utlea Conference in recard to the appointment of a Railway Commission. I sympathize with them, though | was not connected with that conference. I believe it will be wise for this party to take that siep. The people are very much interested in it. I would like at least to have that letter read to the Convention. [Applaanse.] I move as an amountment to the resolution the adoption of such a resolution by this Convention as favors the policy of the Republican party in this State for the appointment of a Railway Commission to represent the people of the State as opposed to the railway interests. Yet I have no grudge analist them. I feel grateful for all the work they have done. But I think that the people should be greater than any private interest, however large it may be.

The amendment was then put and lost, after which resolution was put and adopted. The question was uput mon the orginal resolutions as amended, and the resolution was put and adopted. The question was then put doon the original resolutions as amended, and they were adopted.

The Confemental was suggested during the temporary origanization that the resolution relating to the reorganization of the City of New-York should follow the nomination of the ticket.

Colonel Spencer—I was about to raise the point of order that this Convention has already decided, that that question shad not be brought up until after we have nominated our candidates.

MAKING THE NOMINATIONS.

The Chairman-The point of order is well taken. The next duty of the Convention is the nomination of officers for the State ticket. The Chair will receive any motion

Mr. Madden, of Orange—I second the motion.

The motion was then put and General Joseph B. Carr was declared nominated.

The Chair—The nomination for Controller is now in order. Will the Convention make any somination?

Mr. Draged in a culogistic speech nominated Henry L. Daznid, of the City of Syracuse, as Controller; Mr. Drager seconded the nomination. Mr. Madden proposed Ira Davenport, of Steuben. These two nominations were then supported by many delegates in short speeches. A motion that the roll call be proceeded with was agreed to. The call resulted as follows:

THE QUESTION OF REORGANIZATION. Mr. Carroll E. Smith, of the Committee on Resolutions then offered the following:

Resolved. That we accept the conciliatory spirit that has characterized the proceedings of this body as a harbinger of enduring harmony and permanent success. The teket nominated is made up of men of proved integrity and tested patriotism. They are deserving of popular confidence and will discharge the duties of the several offices for which they are named with conscientions fidelity to the people and to the State.

mamed with conscientions fidelity to the people and to the State.

The resolution was agreed to.

Mr. Husted—I move that the Secretary now call the Congressional Districts in their order so that the names of the State Committee may be reported at the desk.

Mr. Woodm—I hope Mr. Husted will withdraw his motion until there is action taken on the resolution in celegral to the reorganization and recurrolling of the City of New-York.

New-York.—A special order was made, that Senator Woodin now recalls, of the resolution on the reorganization of the city of New-York and Kinga County to be taken up immediately after the nominations.

Mr. Husted—I call for the reading of the resolution.

Mr. Sharpe—I rise to a point of order. My point is that General Husted has made a motion and I desire to know what disposition has been under of it.

The Chairman—I am informed by the temporary chairman that this resolution was made the special order immediately after the nomination of candidates.

The Chair—The point of the gentleman from Ulster is well taken.

The Chair—The point of the gentleman from Ulster is well taken.

The yeas and nays were demanded.

The yeas and nays were demanded.

The roll was then called. When Kings County was reached, Jacob Worth asked to be exceeded from voting. He said: "I cannot see why Kings County has been added to that resolution. Kings County should not be the tender to any other county in the State for the purpose of adopting a resolution to reorganize the Republican organization in that county. There is no disadisfaction in Kings County. There is no independent Republican organization of that county. The Republican organization to the Republican organization there. The only organization in opposition to the Republican organization. No person that I know of has asked that Kings County should be organized, or that the State Committee should be asked to reorganize any ward or district in Kings County, and I cannot for the life of me see the necessity of it. Kings County gave 51,000 Republican votes last year, and can give the same vote for the ticket nominated this year. I withdraw my request to be equived from voting and I vote aye."

When New-York was called Mr. Sutherland said: "I cannot understand why the city of New-York was called Mr. Sutherland said: "I cannot understand why the city of New-York was called Mr. Sutherland said: "I cannot understand why the city of New-York was called Mr. Sutherland said: "I cannot understand why the city of New-York should be accepted by this Convention as the butt of its nection in this matter. With tears in my eyes I saw the roports of the tremendous vote cast in New-York, mader the leadership of the man who is now President of the United States. (Appliause.) If the gentlemen in this Convention, or anywhere clee in the State of New-York can desire any better organization than was shown us last fall let then give us a practical exposition of it in their own cases. Great applause. I withdraw my request and vote aye."

own cases. Great applause. I withdraw my request and vote aye."

George Blias sald—I ask to be excused from voting and will briefly state my reasons. I have not faile in the past to express my opinions publicly upon the mistakes and abuses that exist in the Republican organization in the City of New-York. I believe that abuses still exist though less than they were a few years since, the Lity of New-York. I believe that abuses still exist though less than they were a few years since, the I desire to call attention of this Convention to the fat that you are dealing 150,000 Republican votes in those two counties and you had better go liow. I speak advisedly. There came before the Committeen Credentials certain gentlemen urging a reorganization, and who were they I one gentleman who was in with the machine and ran one of the worst machine organizations in this County and controlled it until the voters of that District, led by Joseph H. Choate, rose and each lim off and he at once started another organization and has been devoting himself to that ever since, insisting upon it that the machine was an outrage and a frand except for the brie period he undertook to use the Morey Letter to make a bargain to buy a United States district attorneyship—one of them is a man who has alderman of this city and a member of the Union League Club had to overrile him. The colored hear of the loty of Now-York marching in precession before the body of Abram Lincoln, and their application made to the committee by a man who removed from the Custom House for personal corruption. [Greans and cries.] That was all the kind of men that came before the committee urging the reorganization. Now, I do not say that there are not such in the city where the disciplining power of The State Committee would be desirable. I do say, Mr. Chairman, that if you want to elect this ticket this fall you had better le alone the organization in this city which lost $1,000 Republican votes hat year, which reduced the normal Democratic majority from 65,000 to 41,000, which alone carried the state for the Republican candidate. J. W. Hedsaw—My request be excused from voting and vote aye."

and vote aye."

After much delay, many points of order much bitter debate and amid great excite ment the vote was announced as 202 in favor of laying on the table the reaclution for the reorganization of the party in New-York and Kings Counties and 127 votes against it. Hence the resolution was laid on the table by a majority of five.

After the members of the State Committee had been announced the Convention adjourned at 1 a. m.

THE NEW STATE COMMITTEE. A SMALL MAJORITY FOR THE OPPONENTS OF MR CONKLING-NEW NAMES,

The last work of the Convention was the announcement of members of the State Committee as elected by Congressional districts. One district, the XXIVth, had not yet agreed upon a member. There is a large number of new names in the committee, and the anti-machine mem they have done. But I think that the people small between than any pfivate interest, however large it may be.

A. C. Clark, of Tiega—I move that the resolution upon free canals be put separately.

Mr. Maiden, of Orange—I move that that resolution be interest than any of the resolution upon the crossition was the put and lost. bers will have a small majority. In this

Mr. Husted was speaker of the Assembly in 1874, 1876, and in 1878. In 1877 he was defeated as a candidate for Speaker by George B. Sloan after a very close vote in the Republican cancus.

SILAS SEYMOUR.

General Silas Seymour, the candidate for State Engineer, is fifty-five years old. He held the office of State Engineer and Surveyor in 1855 and 1856. He is known best from his connection with engineering works throughout the country. For sixteen years he was assistant engineer of the Eric Rail way, and for many years was consulting engineer of the Union Pacific Road. He has also been identified with the construction and equipment of the Lexington and Nashville, Mississippi and Ohio, Sacramento Valley and other roads. He was chief engineer and general super-intendent of the Buffaio and New-York City Railroad. He was awarded much praise for his work in construct-ing the Portage Bridge.

FRANCIS MILES FINCH. Francis Miles Finch, the nominee for Judge of the Court of Appeals, is a native of Ithaca, and is about fifty-five years old. He graduated at Yale College in the class of 1849, delivering the poem on class day. In 1853 he wrote the Centennial poem on the hundredth anniversary of the Linonia Society, in which he paid his celebrated tribute to Colonel Nathan Hale, of Revolutionary fame. He has since written a large number of successful poems, including popular college songs, "The Last Cigar" and others, and the well-known poem, entitled "The Blue and the Gray." His first reputation as a lawyer was won about thirty years ago by securing the acquittal of Edward H. Ruloff, years ago by securing the acquittal of Edward H. Ruloff, who was charged with the murder of his wife. When General Grant was elected, in 1868, the Internal Revenue Collectorship of the Ithaca District fell to alm, but he held the office for only a short time. He had charge of the Cornell estate for a long time, and has been principal counsel for Cornell University since its foundation. Mr. Finch is a painstaking lawyer and an able advocate, besides a literary man of extensive culture. He was appointed in 1850 Judge of the Court of Appeals and was reappointed at the beginning of this year.

PRECEDENTS FOR THE OTHER SIDE.

to the Editor of The Tribune.

Sig: With a genius for blundering rarely equalled since its famous interview with the late Sensior Summer's trunks, and with a naivete which, under the circumstances, can be rationally accounted for only upon the hypothesis of honest ignorance and native incapac prove that no United States Senator can be sworn in or take part in the proceedings of the United States Senate, mtil after the election of a President of that body, every one of which special precedents, with one single excep ion, proves absolutely the utter faisity of The World's

The first of The World's precedents shows that on March 4, 1841, Mr. King of Alabama, was sworn in as Senator before any President of the Senate had been chosen, and that Mr. King himself was thereupon chosen to that officer the second precedent shows that on March 5, 1849, Mr. Atchison was sworn in as a Sena-tor before any President of the Senate had been chosen. and that be, too, was thereupou chose n to that office; the surth precedent shows that on March 4, 1857, Mr. Mason senate had been chosen, and that he, also, was thereupon chosen to that office; the fifth precedent shows that on March 4, 1863, Mr. Fort was sworn in as Schator before any President of the Senate had been chosen, and that he was thereupon chosen to that office; and the sixth precedent shows that on March 5, 1877, Mr. Ferry was sworn in as Senator before any President of the Senate had been chosen, and that he was thereupon schosen to that office. The third precedent is only notice able for the reason that if it stood alone, and were no shown by the other five to be of no authority upon the point raised, it might, contrary to what intellirent readers of The World would expect of a precedent cited by that journal-tend to sustain The World's position; as it stands this precedent only serves to show that on one occasion the Sen ate actually chose a presiding officer before any new uted show that on five occasions the Senate swore in new member before choosing a presiding officer. No question appears to have been raised as to the power of the Senate to swear in the five Senators referred to be-fore the selection of a presiding officer, and no difference

Taken together these precedents show (1) that The World, true to its inspired g nins of blundering, is World, true to its inspired g mus of something, and (2) (which is of much more importance that the Senate is not bound, and that it has repeatedly in practice, declared itself not bound, to choose a Presi ient before proceeding to the awearing in of new mem titution, and within Constitutional limits, the senate is sole imige of its own modes of procedure, and, being such judge, it is for each sepa-ate Senate, within constitutional limits, to say how it rate senate, within constraint a mass. Say shall present.

Upon the question of right, there can be no doubt that That Tatisma's position is sound; and it would certainly be in better inste and more in consonance with the representative character four Government to admit every new senator to his scat before the doing of any important business, than it would be for an accidental and purely technical and momentary majority to exclude July chosen opponents from their seats until after an organization had been effected upon a basis unsatis factory to the real majority.

As the five precedents effect show that new Senators may be less all wavelend.

e selection of that officer. New York, October 3, 1881.

[This is an old habit with The World, Whenever Constitutional question arises, it forms its opinion off-hand. Then it calls in a lawyer to cite the preedents. This he does but, unfortunately for The World, those precedents never support its own position. It quotes them all the same and with so much assurance that readers who are not on their guarare liable to be imposed upon. Its precedents inva-riably establish the fallaciousness of its own reasoning. "It's a queer World!"- Ed.]

GENERAL POLITICAL NEWS.

THE MASSACHUSETTS DEMOCRATS. CHARLES P. THOMPSON NOMINATED FOR GOVERNOR

-OTHER NOMINATIONS-A PLATFORM DEMAND-ING TARIFF REVISION IN THE DIRECTION OF GREATER PROTECTION.
WORCESTER, Mass., Oct. 5.—The Massachuetts Democratic State Convention met at 11:25 a. m. to day. At that bour there were not over 300 delegates in the hall. Colonel Jonas H. French, chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Convention to order and spoke feelingly of President Garfield's death. Upon motion of Mr. Plummer, of Newton, he was made temporary chairman. John K. Tarbox was appointed chairman of the committee on resolutions.

The Hon. Jarvis N. Dunham. of Springfield, was unantmously chosen permanent chairman and S. N. Dyer, of Abington, permanent secretary. Mr. Dunham on being presented to the Convention was received with moderate applause. Reuben Noble nominated the Hon. Charles P. Thompson, of Gloucester, for Governor, which was carried by acclamation. Colonel French said Alpha E. Thompson had withdrawn as a candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, and in his place nominated the Hon. James R. Carleton, of Haverhill. An unknown delegate nominated Henry J. Biles, of Adams. Mr. Carleton was then nominated with few dissenting volces.

The committee on the nomination of the balance of the State ticket reported as follows: For Secretary of State, General Michael T. Donohue, of Somerville; for Treasurer and Receiver-General, Colonel Francis J. Parker, of Newton; for Auditor, Charles R. Fleid, of Greenfield; for Attorier-General, General Parrick A. Collins, of Boston. The report was accepted and unanimensity solution. The Committee on Resolutions reported a platform in

The Committee on Resolutions reported a platform in substance as follows:

We, the Democrats of Massachusetts, believe the distribution of supreme governmental powers in the dual anverticity of state and Nation defined in the Federal Constitution and affirmed in our State Constitution, is the most conservative of a pure administration. We regard the National debt as a buserance to our commercial well being, the removal of which by honest payment as specific as possible, with simple and moderate taxation, should be the streamous policy of the Government. We regard the defeat of the Wood Funding bill in the last Concress by the influence and under the meaner of the organized money power as a triumph of private self-siness over public interest, and a financial loss only partially repaired by the maswful expedient to which Mr. Windom resorted. No apparent zeal in correcting abuses, when found out, can exonerate the party in power from empalse responsibility for the existance, of such abuses under its rule. Under a capable Administration such colossal frauds as those exposed in the Postal Service and similar ones that have scar daited the last three Federal Administrations, would be impossible. We demand that the guity officials and their confederates, however high in place or party favor, shall be purished for their crimes and made to disgorge their plunder as indemnity for their past.

We do strongly assert the importance of an Intelligently bold revision of the tariff laws. We urge that the burden by taxation on the producing classes by the present tariff is a grievance that ough to rive place to lighter dutles more justly distributed. We declare our fixed purpose, so soon as Democrats shall have a coarrolling indinence in the National Administration, that the Civil service be simplified from its present overgrown and corrunting corporations, that appointments to it be regulated by law and removed as far as

A motion to adjourn was then made and carried.

THE DEMOCRATS OF MINNESOTA. MEETING OF THE STATE CONVENTION-AN OPPOR TUNITY TO DEFEAT AN UNPOPULAR REPUBLI-INV THEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.

St. PAUL, Oct. 5.-The Democratic State Convention meets here to-morrow. The Republicans have an average majority of 25,000 in Minnesota, but the present campaign has assumed such a peculiar nature that the action of the Democratic Convention is oked forward to for with considerable interest.

ominated General L. F. Hubbard for Governor. Govon-partisan by filling three vacancies in the Supreme Court by the appointment of Judges Clark and Mite Democrats, and Judge Dickinson, a Republican. The Convention did not second the efforts of the Governor in this direction; instead of indorsins the three appointees it substituted Judge Vanderberg, of Hennesin County, for Judge Clark. This action it is well known, was effected by friends of Mr. Hubbard, who thus secured the votes of the Hennesin delectation for the candidate for Governor. This action does not need with the approval of a large proportion of the fair-minded Republicans of the State, and as nearly all the Democratic County Conventions have instructed their delegates to favor the nomination of the tarce judges appointed by Governor Pillsbury, it seems not altorether unlikely that Judge Clark, in company with Judges Vanderberg be defeated, notwithstanding he to the requisit feculations of the State, and and Judge Vanderberg be defeated, notwithstanding he to the requisit feculations. Democrats, and Judge Dickinson, a Republican, The Judge Vanderberg be defeated, notwithstanding he is the regular it-publican nomines. All the Democration in the State will certainly vote for Jodge Clark, and it is expected that enough Republicans will also vote for lim to secure ins election. General R. W. Johnson, of this city, is the most prominent candidate for nomination for Governor. P. H. Kelly is also mentioned. Johnson took an active part in the war of the Rebellion, commanding a brigade in the Union Army. The Convention avoided the leading issue in Minnesota politics: the payment of the old railroad bonds whose republishment of the old railroad conditions of the State. Not unlikely the Democrats will cack to make capital by formally declaring for the tunnediate settlement of the vexatious question in favor of the bondholders. Judge Vanderberg be defeated, notwithstanding he

MARYLAND REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. THOMAS GARSUCH NOMINATED FOR CONTROLLER-

THE PLATFORM. Cambridge, Md., Oct. 5 .- The Republican tate Convention to nominate a candidate for Controller met here to-may. The Hon. J. A. J. Creswell, ex-Post master-General, was chosen temporary chairman. He made a touching allusion in his opening address to the late President Gardeld. W. H. Hamilton, of Washington County, and Dr. W. R. Wilmer, of Charles County, were elected temporarp secretaries.

Thomas Garsuch, of Frederick County, was nominated

Thomas Garsuch, of Frederick County, was nominated for Controller. The Committee on Resolutions offered a series of resolutions setting forth the free and fair expression of the will of the people through the ballot-box; the honest payment of the public debt: that it is the duty of Congress at once to provide an improved method of ascertaining the result of Presidential elections and to make further provision for a case of vacancy in the Presidential office; also to revise and make more efficient the laws designed to protect the ballot-box at national elections and to refuse to admit to any official position under the National Government any man whose right to such seat or position reals upon or is tainted by pribery, fraud or violence. The resolutions were supposed, as were also resolutions expressive of the feeling of the Convention at the death of the President. The

A MYTHICAL CONFERENCE.

A dispatch from Washington published in this city yesterday said that there had been a meeting in New-York between the leaders of the Greenback party and certain Democratic managers to consult about the speakership of the next House. The Greenback leaders, it was said, desired to combine with the Democrats, but Abram S. Hewitt, in behalf of the Democrats, declined to entertain the proposition. To a Taibune reporter last creding Mr. Hewitt said that so far as he knew there had been no conference held. He had taken no part in it if one had been held, and the reports of ar as news concerned was without the slightest foundation.

THE ATLANTA EXPOSITION OPENED.

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 5.-The International and an enthusiasm that promise the best results. Th crowd in attendance was very large. The 5th United States Artillery and the Gate City Guards, were drawn up in front of the speakers' stand. On the speakers' stand were Director-General Kimball, Governor Colquist, Bishop Ediott, of Texas; ex-Governor Vance, of North Carolina; Daniel Voorbees, of Indiana, and N. J. Hammond, of Atlanta. The vast assemblage was called to order by Governor obputt. Prayer was then made by the Rt. Rev. cobert W. B. Ellioft, Bishop of Texas. He prayed that he death of President Gardeld might have a good effect drawing the people of the whole country closer together. The buildings and grounds were then presente by the Director-General, A. J. Kimball, to the Exposition Association. The acceptance of the buildings and grounds by Governor Colquitt followed. Sovernor Colquitt said that he doubted whether the Governor Colquitt sain that he obtained was received, it looked more like enchantment than the application of hard work. The shareholders were more than satisfied with what had been accomplished. The work had been quickly done, and well done; but the chief pride of those who had the work in charge would have been lost if they had been unauccessful in emissing the interest of the people of the whole country. They were promitted by a higher ole of the whole country. They were prompted by a his notive than a mere material demonstration; a nob and more beneficent impulse prompted them—the des to draw all the people of all the sections of this v and more beneficent impulse prompted them—the desire to draw all the people of all the sections of this vast country nearer and more firmly together in their heart relations.

An address of welcome was delivered by Zebuio B. Vance, of North Carolina, in the course of which he said: "We stand in the shadow of a great calamity."

The death of President Garfield has affected no portion of the country more deeply than the South. It has aroused amongst us every sentiment of chivalry and loyalty. Let us all see that the remion caused by his death may never perish from among us."

The response to the address of velcome was made by Daniel W. Voorhees, of Indiana.

An Exposition Ode, written by Paul H. Hayne, of Georgia, was read by N. J. Hammond. Governor Colquitt then declared the Exposition opened, and invited its inspection by the world. Mr. A. T. Goshorn, manager of the International Exposition, Governor Vance, Mr. Voorhees and Director-General Kinball assisted Governor Colquitt in starting the machinery.

FIRE RECORD.

DAMAGE TO A BREWERY. A fire broke out shortly before 4 o'clock yes terday afternoon, on the fourth floor of the Continenta and in a few minutes the two upper floors were in flames. The brewery is a five-story brick building, with a three-story extension about a hundred feet long. It is owned by Tracy & Russell. The precise of the fire is a mystery. The workmen had hardly time to carry the slarm to the street before the flames swept the entire length of the building, consuming the contents of the fourth story and quickly making their way through to the fifth and to the roof. The entire way through to the fifth and to the roof. The entire available strength of the Fire Department hastened to the spot. Chief Baker took command and the flames were gotten under centrol in iess than half an hour, and their ravages confined to the two upper stories. Those were burned out. The fire was out at 5 o'clock. The building had been soaked in water, and a large quantity of hops and malt had been ruined. The damage to the building was estimated by the police at $10,000, and to lise contents at $30,000. It is probable that the loss will exceed $50,000, upon which there is ample insurance in a large number of companies. a large number of companies.
